

Troubleshooting Notes

False positive from anti-virus software

Some Windows AV programs mistakenly flag the unlocker as having a virus. This is a false positive and it mainly is seen with Windows Defender. The Go Language web site documents the problem.

Always download from the releases section here, and if you have any doubts you can compile the source code and will see the false positive from Defender.

Set a specific macOS Guest resolution

Installing the VMWare Tools should allow different video modes to be selected. If you have already installed them and still does not change resolution you can try this. Open Terminal and run:

```
sudo /Library/Application Support/VMware Tools/vmware-resolutionSet <width> <height>

where width and height are the pixel size you want. For example to get 1440x900:

sudo /Library/Application Support/VMware Tools/vmware-resolutionSet 1440 900
